PRESS RELEASE

In one of the recent attempts to reach out to the teachers who have boycotted the evaluation work, the University of Delhi administration has issued another appeal to these teachers to see reason and start the evaluation of the answer scripts without any further delay. The appeal is being issued in view of the critical nature of the timely availability of results for a vast number of students who are seeking admission to various courses in India and abroad or are aspiring to get jobs to support their families. The appeal highlighted the fact that teachers are responsible for shaping the future of the student population and the society at large. "If we fail to recognize this crucial responsibility, great damage would be caused to the institution as well as to our students", mentioned the appeal.

We once again urge our colleagues to participate in the evaluation work at the earliest and ensure that the future of our students is safeguarded and our institution continues its unblemished record of timely declaration of results. At this critical juncture in the lives of our students, we cannot abandon our responsibility and let them and their families down.
